Hardy Roses
Hollyhocks
Paeonies
and Phlox

M. H. WALKH
Woods Hole, Mass.
WHEN planting, the holes should be dug about a foot in depth and fifteen to eighteen inches in diameter. If the plants are to be set in rows, a trench should be dug, and this should be a foot deep and a foot or more wide. Place the plants in the hole or trench, taking care not to have any of the roots crossed or cramped, and spreading them out well from the stem of the plant: cover the roots with a light covering of earth at first, shaking the plant a little to settle the soil about the roots, and add more earth until you have the collar of the plant, i.e., the point where the bud or branch is united with the stock, two inches below the surface of the ground where planted; fill in the trench or hole, treading the soil down firmly about the stem of the plant. On accompanying cut, B shows the collar of plant, which should be two inches below surface, A, when the plant is finally set.
Foreword.

HEREWITH I submit my latest list of specialties, which has been revised and brought up to date.

I take great pleasure in calling especial attention to the several new varieties of Rambler Roses, which are adapted for climbers or for trailing as ground roses.

These varieties have been thoroughly tested, and have been pronounced by experts to be most valuable acquisitions to this popular variety of rose. For further particulars the reader is referred to the description accompanying illustrations.

In revising my list I have added the best of the newer varieties, and the list now contains all the leading varieties of hardy garden roses, in the several classes.

I take pleasure in announcing that I have a limited supply of my new Hybrid Perpetual Rose, Joseph S. Fay, now available for distribution.

This is a rose of exceptional merit and is distinct in form and color, making it a valuable addition to the crimson shades of the Hybrid Perpetual class.

The reader's attention is also invited to the list of Phlox, Hollyhocks, and Paeonies.

With thanks for past favors,

Respectfully,

M. H. WALSH.

Suggestions.

Rose plants should be unpacked immediately upon arrival; tops and roots should be well sprinkled with water, after which they should be covered with bagging and placed in a shaded spot until ready to plant.

If the ground is not prepared when plants are received, they should be put in a shallow trench and the roots covered with loose soil.

Roses do not thrive in stagnant soil; hence, good drainage is essential.

“Begin well, make the foundation safe, and you may hope to prosper.”

“Stick a rose tree in a hole, and expect it to die; plant it properly, and it will pay you for your pains.”

Soil best suited is loam of a greasy nature, which must be well manured, cow manure giving the best results; but if this cannot be obtained, horse manure is a good substitute, as is also pig manure.

When planting see that the roots are not crowded, and care should be taken not to cross the roots, but spread them well. It is well, also, to cover the roots with soil and not allow the manure to come in contact with them. After planting give the plants a liberal soaking with water.

During a dry season, also, the rose requires plenty of water, and frequent soakings of the bed with liquid manure will be beneficial.

In the autumn it is well to apply a surface dressing of manure for protection against frost, this dressing to be forked under in the spring.

The better time for fall planting is the latter part of October, or early in November, but it may be done as late as the middle of December, and excellent results obtained.

Spring planting should be done in March or April, to get good results the following season. In a mild season, planting can be done in March.

Pruning. Unless a wet, cold, or late spring, pruning should be done in March or early in April. Cut away the dead or unripened wood, leaving only the strong and well matured.

Pruning to an eye or bud pointing outwards is productive of well-formed plants.

Climbing or Pillar Roses should have tips trimmed only and should not be cut back.

For rose mildew flour of sulphur is a good remedy. This should be dusted over the plants frequently.

For green fly and rose slugs dust with powdered hellebore as soon as third leaf appears on young growth.

Should the powder be washed off by rains, other applications should be given until the flower bud is formed.

Phlox may be planted in the spring or fall, but fall planting is preferable; will grow in ordinary garden soil well enriched with manure.

Paeonies thrive in any garden soil, but for the best results they should be planted in prepared ground dug at least two feet deep and well enriched with manure. They should be watered frequently after flower buds appear.

September planting insures a crop of blooms the following season. They may be planted in the spring, but the blooms will be few for that season.

Hollyhocks require deep, rich, and sandy soil for best results.

Plants set out in April flower the same year. Shaded localities are to be avoided.

For fungus or Hollyhock blight, Bordeaux mixture spraying the plants in early part of season has proved successful as a preventative of this disease.
New Hybrid Seedling Rambler "Wedding Bells"

Seedling from Crimson Rambler
TAKE pleasure in offering this season my new Hybrid Seedling Rambler, "Wedding Bells," a seedling of the Crimson Rambler.

This is a valuable acquisition to this charming class of roses. It grows vigorously, is hardy, distinct in foliage, and the most floriferous rose yet produced. All the buds on each shoot produce a cluster of beautiful flowers of which the color is white with the upper half of petals soft pink. It is admirably suited for growing as a specimen bush plant in the garden and may be grown in hedge form for wind break or shelter in the garden. This variety is specially adapted for greenhouse or conservatory decoration. Awarded Silver Medal by Newport Horticultural Society, June, 1904.

Strong dormant field-grown plants, $1.50 each. Extra strong, 4 to 5 ft./3 to 5 shoots. $2.00 each.

Revised List of prices for 1905 in strong dormant field-grown plants to flower the first season of planting.

Hybrid Tea Roses

Ferdinand Jamin. 50 cts. each. Flowers large, full, globular; rosy carmine, shaded salmon; very floriferous; a good rose.

Gruss an Teplitz. Brightest scarlet crimson; very free flowering and useful for pillars; a superb decorative variety.

Killarney. A charming rose of robust growth and free branching habit; the blooms are large, the buds are very long and pointed; petals are very large and of great substance; flesh shaded white, suffused pale pink; a lovely and distinct rose of great merit.

Liberty. Brilliant velvety crimson of even shade throughout; a truly unique and charming rose. It has no compere in its section, being perfect in symmetry and color. As it is most floriferous, it has no equal for cut flower or decorative work; excellent for forcing.

Mildred Grant. $1.00 each; $9.00 per dozen. Silvery white, edge of petals shaded and bordered with pink; blooms are of enormous size and substance, with high-pointed centre, and last long in good condition. The petals, which are of unusual length, are perfectly shell-shaped and very massive; the growth is robust, vigorous, and absolutely distinct, every shoot being crowned by a flower bud, which is carried on a perfectly erect and very stout flower stem; the wood and foliage, which is light mossy green, is most striking and attractive. Altogether this is the grandest variety ever raised, and may be termed the rose of the century. Gold Medal N. R. S.

Mrs. W. J. Grant. 50 cts. each. A truly superb rose: imperial pink—a rare color; the flowers, which are sweetly perfumed, are large, beautifully formed, of long tapering shape, with high centre; a most prolific bloomer, every growth producing a perfect flower; the finest rose of its color. Gold Medal N. R. S.

New Hybrid Perpetual

Frau Karl Druschki. 75 cts. each. Snow white; petals shell-shaped; very large, full, perfectly formed; opening well; a superb rose.

Hybrid Sweet Briars

Lord Penzance’s Hybrids are most interesting, being crosses between the common Sweet Briar and other Roses. The foliage is deliciously scented, and the flowers are of the most beautiful tints, and produced in great abundance.

Rugosa Roses and their Hybrids (R. Rugosa)

The Rugosa Roses are natives of Japan, and are nearly allied botanically to the Microphylla Roses; they are exceedingly hardy, growing in almost any soil or situation, and resisting the severest frosts. They form sturdy bushes, three to four feet in height, furnished with handsome glossy foliage, and terminating with clusters of large fragrant flowers. They continue in bloom the whole of summer, and form very attractive plants. The seed pods of the single varieties are bright red in color, and striking objects during the winter months.

Atropurpurea. The flowers, produced in large bunches, are in the bud state, almost blackish crimson, and pass as they open to maroon crimson; certainly the finest of the class.

Belle Poitevine. Rose color, double, very floriferous, very sweet.

Blanc Double de Coubert. A double white form of Rugosa Alba, large and showy.

Calocarpa. Rose color, single, very sweet; the flowers are succeeded by innumerable rich scarlet tints.

Conrad F. Meyer. Very large flowers; clear silvery rose; very fragrant. The bud is as well formed as La France; very good.

Delicata. Soft rose; double flowers of good size, blooming continuously, and in clusters; much admired by all who see it.

Fimbriata. White, suffused pink, with edges of petals fimbriated; sweetly perfumed; growth vigorous.

Flame Georges Bruant. Paper white, large and double; produced in clusters; a valuable pure white decorative rose and the first of a new race of hybrids; quite distinct.

Madame Chas. Worth. Rosy carmine, semi-double; flowering in large bunches.

Mrs. Anthony Waterer. Deep crimson; flowering in great clusters, blooms semi-double; very fragrant.

Rugosa (Regeliana). Crimson, single.

Rugosa Alba. White, single.

Rose Apples. Flowers semi-double, with large petals; pale carmine rose; flowering in immense cluster during summer and autumn.

Souvr. de Pierre Peperdrieux. Bright vinous-red; flowers double, produced in immense clusters, fruits very ornamental and beautiful.

Schneelecht. A climbing variety, with snow-white flowers; perfectly formed; a variety of great merit.

Price, 50 cts. each; $5.00 per dozen.

Tree or Standard Roses

These are much grown as ornamental tree roses for the garden. The stems of these roses should be wrapped in straw to serve as winter protection. These should be tied firmly to the stakes and a mulching of coarse manure placed around the base of the plants. The shoots of the plants may be tied somewhat close together and a little straw tied around them for protection.

I can supply these 3½ to 4 ft. high from $10.00 to $15.00 a dozen and from $1.00 to $1.50 each— including the best and hardiest of the Hybrid Perpetuals in variety and the hardiest of the Hybrid Teas in the various colors.
J. S. Fay.

A new seedling originated at Woods Hole.
A vigorous grower of unquestioned hardiness. Plants producing flowers of dark crimson color, enlivened with scarlet.
Flowers are double, of great substance, and of exceptionally fine form.
Foliage is very profuse and of a dark glossy green.
Prominent experts have pronounced this rose to be the best crimson rose yet introduced.
It has been awarded first-class certificates of merit by the Massachusetts, New York, and Newport Horticultural Societies.
A most desirable rose to have in any collection.
A limited number is now offered at $2.00 each.
This is so free-flowering it may properly be called a perpetual bloomer. It is attractive and distinct from any other Hardy Garden Rose. Good judges claim this is the best Dark Colored Rose yet introduced.
New Seedling Rambler Rose, "Hiawatha."

This seedling, which attracted so much attention and evoked many favorable comments when exhibited for the first time at the Spring Exhibition of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society in March, 1902, is a distinct acquisition to the ever popular Rambler class of roses.

It is a seedling from Crimson Rambler.

The flowers are single, and are of a deep, intense crimson shade with the petals shading to a pure white at the base.

The foliage is of a dark glossy green.

The remarkable beauty and the striking effect of a plant in full bloom must be seen to be thoroughly appreciated.

Flowers very freely, and it is undoubtedly one of the best of the single roses now extant.

It is an excellent plant for forcing, and is well suited for climbing or trailing.

The cut shows the plant as exhibited at the above-mentioned exhibition, at which time the photograph was taken.

The plant is perfectly hardy, and the leaves and stems are very tough and less susceptible to the attacks of insects than any other rose in this popular class.

Price, $2.00 each.
NEW SEEDLING, "HIAWATHA."
as Exhibited at the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, Boston, Mass.
New Rambler, "Karissima."

A new seedling from Wichuriana.

The flowers are of a delicate flesh color, which remains true and DOES NOT FADE.

The foliage is of a bright glossy green.

This rose blooms freely, producing flowers that are very double, the petals of which are QUILLED or IMBRICATED, producing a very striking resemblance to a carnation, an effect that is decidedly unique in this variety of rose.

The sweet fragrance of the blooms, which is an additional feature of this rose, does not lessen after cutting.

The plants are perfectly hardy and make vigorous growers.

Price, $2.00 each.
SPECIMEN BLOOMS OF NEW RAMBLER ROSE, "KARISSIMA."
New Silver Medal.

Seedling Rambler, "Minnehaha."

A new seedling from Wichuriana.
A most charming and fitting companion rose to the "Hiawatha."
The Minnehaha is of a dark rose color, which does not fade.
The flowers are very double and of great size, blooms measuring 2½ inches in diameter being very common.
The flowers are possessed of a delicate fragrance, which adds much to the attractiveness of the plant.
The foliage is a bright shiny green.
The plants are perfectly hardy and are admirably suited for climbing, or it may be used with great satisfaction as a bush plant.
The illustration shows the plant as exhibited at the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, where it was awarded the Society's Silver Medal.

Price, $2.00 each.
NEW RAMBLER, "MINNEHAHA."
Companion to the "Hiawatha" Rose.

11

A seedling from the popular Crimson Rambler, which it resembles in habit of growth and general effect.

The flowers are of a delicate cherry pink color, which fades to a soft white.

The foliage is very profuse and of a glossy deep green shade.

The effect of a plant in full bloom, with the combination of the soft white flowers, the cherry pink buds, and the deep green foliage, is indeed most charming.

The plant is a vigorous grower and perfectly hardy.

As will be seen from the accompanying illustration, the flowers are very numerous and of good size; they are also delicately perfumed.

This is a Rose of HIGHEST MERIT and far superior in every respect to the Crimson Rambler. This is a new color in a Rose, of which one will not become tired, as is the case with the Crimson Rambler.

Strong flowering plants, field grown; by that is meant plants which will flower next summer. Price, $2.00 each.

Rosa Polyantha.

Crimson Rambler. A magnificent variety, producing large pyramidal trusses of crimson flowers; foliage is a bright glossy green. It is of strong climbing habit, forces freely, and loses none of its brilliancy under glass. A universal favorite. Price, $3.50 per dozen. Extra large flowering plants, 50 cts. each.

Debutante. A new seedling originated by me, and awarded a silver medal by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society in 1900. A distinct acquisition to the popular Rambler class. This rose is of a beautiful soft pink color; flowers borne in clusters, similar to Crimson Rambler; very fragrant, the blooms when open having the delicate odor of the Sweetbrier. Flowers are double and of uniform size. Foliage, dark green and glossy. A splendid variety, and especially suited for climbing or trailing. Blooms freely in July, and also in September and October. Strong field-grown flowering plants, $1.00 each; $9.00 per dozen.

NEW SEEDLING RAMBLER ROSE "HIAWATHA." This seedling, which attracted so much attention and evoked many favorable comments when exhibited for the first time at the spring exhibition of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society in March, 1902, is a distinct acquisition to the ever popular Rambler class of roses. It is a seedling from Crimson Rambler. The flowers are single, and are of a deep intense crimson shade with the petals shading to a pure white at the base. The foliage is of a light glossy green. The remarkable beauty and the striking effect of a plant in full bloom must be seen to be thoroughly appreciated. Flowers very freely, and it is undoubtedly one of the best of the single roses now extant. It is an excellent plant for forcing, and is well suited for climbing or trailing. The cut shows the plant as exhibited at the above-mentioned exhibition, at which time the photograph was taken. The plant is perfectly hardy, and the leaves and stems are very tough and less susceptible to the attacks of insects than any other rose in this popular class. Price, $2.00 each.

NEW RAMBLER "KARISSIMA." A new seedling from Wichuriana. The flowers are of a delicate flesh color, which remains true and does not fade. The foliage is of a bright glossy green. This rose blooms freely, producing flowers that are very double, the petals of which are quilled or imbricated, producing a very striking resemblance to a carnation, an effect that is decidedly unique in this variety of rose. The sweet fragrance of the blooms, which is an additional feature of this rose, does not lessen after cutting. The plants are perfectly hardy and make vigorous growers. Price, $2.00 each.

Sweetheart. A new rose of the climbing or trailing variety. This rose, originated by me, has received great praise wherever seen, and was awarded a silver medal by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society in 1899, the year of its introduction. It is a vigorous grower, and similar in habit to the ever popular Crimson Rambler. The color of the bloom when in bud is a bright pink, which shades to a soft white when flowers are fully expanded. Blooms are very double, and average 2½ inches in diameter; deliciously fragrant. Foliage, glossy dark green. Strong field-grown flowering plants, $1.00 each; $9.00 per dozen.

Yellow Rambler. (Aglaia.) Of vigorous climbing habit with light green foliage; flowers borne in large clusters and of beautiful shell-shaped form. Color is a bright yellow. Price, 35 cts. each; $3.00 per dozen. Extra strong plants, price, 50 cts. each.

China Roses.

Hermossa. Much like old Blush in color. Flowers large and full and freely produced. A good grower. Price, 35 cts. each; $3.50 per dozen.

Moss Roses.

Blanche Moreau. Pure white. Perfect flower, well mosseed.

Glory of Mosses. Blush pink. Large and full.

Laneil. Bright rosy crimson.

Marie de Blois. Rosy lilac. A good variety.

Salet. Light rose. Perpetual. Price, 35 cts. each; $3.50 per dozen.
Paeonies.

Paeonies. In this beautiful garden plant I offer a selected stock, which contains selections from the finest varieties grown either in this country or abroad.

The plants are strong and well rooted, and are, with proper care, sure to give satisfaction.

A bed or border of this plant is most effective, and no one will regret taking up their culture, as they are, while in season, a pleasure and delight to the eye. Price except where noted, 50 cts. each; $5.00 per dozen.

Abel de Pujol. Purple rose color, whitish reflections.
Auguste Lemmonier. Large flower, anemone form, bright violet purple, very showy.
Belle Chatelaine. Flesh, sulphur centre changing to white. Price, 75 cts. each.
Buckii. Flesh rose, with salmon centre. Large. Price, 75 cts. each.
Caroline Allain. Beautiful blush, with a culcatoo centre of sulphur-tipped white. Price, 75 cts. each.

Hollyhocks.

In this favorite of the gardens of the olden time, I offer plants grown from my own seed (which is not for sale), and have a beautiful assortment of colors. Care was taken to obtain seed from stock plants entirely free from disease, and the different shades and colors have been kept distinct. Sixteen distinct colors.

This plant is again growing in public favor and makes a very effective display for borders, or along walls, fences, and buildings.

Double Hollyhocks, which, with proper care and attention, should reach a height of from six to eight feet in the following shades: buff, crimson, dark maroon (almost black), French white (dusky), light flesh, magenta, purple, pink, rose pink, scarlet, salmon, white, yellow. Price, $2.00 per dozen; $12.00 per hundred.

Phlox.

The Phlox is becoming more and more popular each year as its useful qualities become known.

I offer an exceptionally fine collection of the choicest varieties. None but good, strong, and hardy plants will be sent out.

Planted in good soil, the Phlox will give satisfactory results for several seasons without replanting.

Flowers in August, September, and October.

Abundance. Wine red, shaded violet, white eye, trusses of great size. A splendid variety.

Beranger. Rosy white, suffused with a very delicate grayish tint. A very pretty effect.

Claudot. Light rosy flesh color, with bright centre.

Champs d’Elysees. Rosy purple; centre, crimson. Large flowers. Very attractive and a most showy variety.

Coccinea. Rich vermilion. A prime favorite, and one of the best.

Comtesse de Turcume. Pure white, with pink eye. Very beautiful and a grand grower.

Croix d’Honneur. Rosy mauve. Immense spikes, good foliage, and very pretty.

Diamond. A clear white, nice foliage, and very good bloomer.

Etna. Bright orange red; centre, shaded maroon. A very striking variety, and one of the most brilliant effects.

Faust. White, shaded in centre with rosy pink. A beautiful and large flowering dwarf kind.
Johann Nichol. Salmon scarlet. A very popular variety.
Hecla. White, tinted lilac pink.
Iris. Bluish violet, with large blue centre. Flowers large and perfectly formed.
Lothair. Light scarlet, shading to violet. A grand and most attractive bloomer.
Lady Trevor Lawrence. White, with crimson-purple tinged eye. Large pips on long stems. An excellent variety.
Le Destin. White, with rose centre. Dwarf, but a grand kind.
La Vogue. Rosy mauve. Large flowers and fine foliage.
Mrs. C. Turner. Purple, suffused with lilac pink. Very fine and a grand grower.

In ordering Phlox, please state second choice, so that orders may be filled if out of some varieties.

Price, 25 cts. each: $2.50 per dozen.

DEBUTANTE ROSE.
Growing on Trellis.

A fine autumn-flowering Rose was recently sent us by M. H. Walsh, of Woods Hole, Mass., the variety being his Debutante. The shoots were masses of bloom, of a delightful bright pink color and slightly fragrant. This Rose is a hybrid from Wichuriana, and partakes very much indeed of that plant in its habit of growth and in its foliage. The acquisition of such a prolific flowering rambler Rose, giving flowers all the season through and up to the time of frost, is something noteworthy. As a trellis plant or porch trainer we cannot think of anything more desirable.—From American Gardening, New York, Nov. 14, 1903.
